IN ARMENIA

Of all the cruel atrocities that have ever been visited upon a peaceable and unoffending race, the Armenians are suffering it now at the hands of the "unspeakable Turk."

Of a population of two millions one million and a half have been forced from their homes and not allowed to either sell or take with them more than they could carry on their persons or in their hands.

They have been forced to travel many miles on foot into the desert, there to die by the thousands. No food was supplied them and no shelter or care of any kind. If they got any food they must pay big prices for it in cash and most of the unfortunates had no cash. Reports from the section over which the people were driven state that the rivers were clogged and the air was reeking with the stench of decaying bodies.

It is estimated that of the million and a half that have been forced from their homes fully eight hundred thousand have died or have been killed by the Turks.

No human language can fully portray the gross and inhuman treatment that has been inflicted on this refined, educated and peaceable people. They were the artisans, business men and bankers as well as the farmers of the region they occupied. Business is at the point of stagnation and the country is largely a wilderness so far as peace and orderly living goes.

What all is this for? No person can answer other than to say that the Turk has such an unspeakable hatred of the Armenians that they wish to destroy them entirely as a nation. The Armenians have done nothing except to show thrift and good citizenship and help to build up the country in which they live.

This is being done now by the Turk when war conditions are so entirely engrossing the attention of the world that comparatively little attention is being paid to it. It is going on behind the veil of the smoke of battle.

Some would say: Why do not the civilized nations stop it. Some have protested with no effect, but in most cases the nations of Europe are so engrossed in war that they can seem to give little attention to even so shocking conditions as now prevail in Armenia.

When one comes to view it in all its enormity and cruelty it is a severe test of the human reason to believe in the goodness and mercy of a loving God.

Since the act was passed giving our county an election commission our juries are very much more nearly a roll of honor than when men were picked up hit or miss or appointed by a justice as a matter of courtesy to some one in his district.

It is noticeable now that the best business men and those known to stand strongly for good behavior in every way are numerous on the juries. It is now an honor to be chosen by our jury commission for they are men so well known for their high character that no one would think they had any object in view other than that of selecting such men as will serve the public the best.

Mr. Subscriber did you ever stop to think that the Chronicle is doing a good work in this county? Did you ever think that it is doing much to help the farmer and is not neglecting to

FAMILY AVOIDS
SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Thedford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble."

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Thedford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package to-day.

stand and work for good morals, progress and every good and desirable thing for our country?

Our efforts are not spent alone in trying to make a living. We have a higher mission than that. We are striving to help in every possible way the march of progressive things to the end that the day may be hastened when this mountain section will be the garden spot of Tennessee, as it is sure to be, and become one of the most pleasant places in this broad land to live because peace, plenty and high thinking people make their homes here.

Are you not willing to help in this great work? We feel sure you are saying "yes" to that question.

One of the first things for every person to do to get themselves right on the question of helping to make this a great country is to first of all meet our just obligations. There are quite a number of persons over the county who are owing this business on subscription; we are needing the amount badly and would ask that you settle your subscription account at an early date. That will help us to do better work and make you feel better at the same time.

Every week the Chronicle receives matter for publication sent out by the Wholesale Liquor Dealers Association. We are always urged to use the matter freely, which we do by dropping the unopened envelope into the waste basket, where it belongs.

There is not a crime in the catalogue that whiskey has not inspired or carried to consummation. There is not a single thing connected with the viper that is worthy of respect and no condoning or supporting word shall appear in these columns while the writer can prevent it.

Why do you farmers not organize a sheep association and grow more sheep and fewer cur dogs? The man who owns a flock of sheep, if he has no other stock, is usually a thrifty citizen. The man whose sole animal property is a cur dog rarely amounts to much in the community.

Let's have more sheep and fewer cur dogs.

Lewis S. Pope is mentioned as opposition candidate for Congress from the Third district against Judge Moon. Mr. Pope is Assistant Attorney-General of the state and is an able lawyer and eloquent speaker.

Mr. Farmer, if you have not at least a small bunch of sheep, you are sleeping on your opportunities for getting some easy money on a small investment.

If you want pencils, fountain pens, pen points, ink wells, library paste, or paper fasteners come to the Chronicle office for them.

FOR CHILDREN'S COUGH.

You cannot use anything better for your child's cough and cold than Dr. King's New Discovery. It is prepared from Pine Tar mixed with healing and soothing balsams. It does not contain anything harmful and is slightly laxative, just enough to expel the poisons from the system. Dr. King's New Discovery is antiseptic—kills the cold germs—raises the phlegm—loosens the cough and soothes the irritation. Don't put off treatment. Coughs and colds often lead to serious lung troubles. It is also good for adult and the aged. Get a bottle today. All druggists. 3.

SETTING TYPE SUNDAY

That Was Necessary in Order to Have a Paper This Week.

A large part of this issue of the Chronicle was put into type Sunday. This is the first time that has happened and we trust the necessity for such a thing will not occur again.

Our machine operator, Miss Eula Bishop, has been confined to her room with a severe attack of gripe and has not been able to work at all since Thursday, and it is not probable she will be able to work any before the last of this week, if then.

Last week she set the type for the paper under very difficult circumstances. She worked half a day at a time and was in bed the other half. Friday she was unable to leave her bed, but the doctor thinks she may be able to work some the last of this week.

Had it not been for the kindness of Miss Susie Dunbar, who is machine operator for the Harriman Record, there would very likely have been no Chronicle this week. Miss Dunbar came over from Harriman Saturday afternoon and went to work and stuck to the job until Monday noon, at which time she had to leave for Harriman to put up the Record type for this week. Our thanks are due Editor Featherly of the Record for his kindness in sparing Miss Dunbar as he did.

Some may say we had better miss an issue of the paper than work on Sunday. That sounds reasonable at first thought. But when we say there is legal matter running in the Chronicle that would very seriously discommode other persons, one will see that the personal interest of the Chronicle is not all that is at stake. To have missed this issue of the Chronicle would have made much trouble and considerable expense for some who have cases in court and would have cost us considerable trouble at the same time. It was a case of the ox being in the ditch and he was not pushed in Saturday as an excuse to pull him out on Sunday either.

SCIATICA'S PIERCING PAIN.

To kill the nerve pains of Sciatica you can always depend on Sloan's Liniment. It penetrates to the seat of pain and brings ease as soon as applied. A great comfort too with Sloan's is that no rubbing is required. Sloan's Liniment is invaluable for stopping muscular or nerve pain of any kind. Try it at once if you suffer with rheumatism, lumbago, sore throat, pain in chest, sprains, bruises, etc. It is excellent for neuralgia and headache. 25c. at all druggists. 3.

PARLIAMENT HOUSE BURNED.

The parliament house, Ottawa, Canada, was burned last week and seven persons lost their lives. The building cost six millions. Steps have been taken to rebuild on the site of the ruins. The fire is thought to have been caused by a gas bomb hidden in the library by some enemy of the British government.

HORRORS OF WAR.

Deck of Vessel Awash With Blood as Montenegrins Kill Each Other.

Some of the horrors of war are briefly related by a Greek girl, Marie Lemos, of Irving Park, Chicago, who went as a Red Cross nurse, and who survived the sinking of the Italian steamship Brindisi, which recently struck a mine in the Adriatic. She says:

"There is not any way to tell you so that you would understand the awful horror of the things that I have seen and lived in the last month.

"The hideous rapidity of the sinking of the steamship Brindisi, with her decks covered with dead; myself shot into the water, which was full of struggling youths trying to keep afloat but disappearing one by one within sight of land; the Austrian aeroplane attacks on San Giovanni de Medua and Durazzo; the ghastly sight of hundreds of Serbians falling exhausted and dying from hunger and cold along the road of their retreat through Albania—it does not seem believable."

Miss Lemos is 22 years old, with brown features revealing her Bohemian extraction. High, laced boots, short khaki skirt, a jacket embroidered with Red Cross insignia and a flannel waist constitute her only possessions.

The Red Cross nurse left New York aboard the steamer Italia, which carried $10,000 worth of Red Cross supplies destined for the relief of the Serbians. Among the passengers were 423 Montenegrin reservists, many of them American citizens, returning from the Western states, and even Alaska, to fight for their country.

RED CROSS UNIT

The Frothingham Red Cross unit consisted of Miss Stephanie Hamble and Frank Synacek, both of New York, who were drowned; Dr. Edward Cunot of Chicago, who disappeared after being rescued, and is thought to have returned to Brindisi, and Dr. George Gucha and Marie Lemos, who are now at Athens.

"We struck a mine at 9:30 o'clock in the morning and the ship began to sink immediately," said Miss Lemos. "We tried to lower a boat, but the ship keeled over so that everybody in the boat was thrown into the water. Miss Hamble could not swim and never came up. I managed to scramble back board the Brindisi, where I found some 200 Montenegrins who were unable to swim.

"These men said they would not die by the enemy's hands. They sang their national anthem, and then one squad shot the others and finally killed themselves. The decks were covered with dead and awash with blood.

"When the ship began to founder I slipped back into the water and swam to a plank on which several men were clinging, but who dropped off one by one. Finally, after being three hours in the water, I was picked up and taken to San Giovanni de Medua.

"As soon as the 143 persons rescued were safely ashore the Montenegrins lined up and sang the national anthem. While the men were singing an Austrian aeroplane squadron bombarded the town, killing eighteen of those who had just been saved.

BODY WASHED ASHORE

"The following day the body of Miss Hamble was washed ashore. I took from it a locket with the picture of her fiancé, who was with the Serbian army, intending to deliver it to him, but when I reached Scutari I learned that he had been killed.

"From San Giovanni de Medua we walked to Scutari and sought to join the Serbian staff at Plavnica, but six days later the evacuation of the town took place.

"King Nicholas of Montenegro fetched us to Scutari in his boat. He is a kindly and democratic old man, who seems to understand, but Prince Peter says he wants to give up the struggle and again begin life as a private citizen, preferably in America.

"From Scutari we walked five days through sleet and snow over detestable roads, along which the hunger weakened Serbs died like flies.

"Reaching Durazzo seven pursuing Austrian aeroplanes bombarded the town, where the remnants of the Serbian army were so crowded that they were unable to escape the missiles. Many were killed and others wounded and owing to the lack of medical stores the suffering was frightful.

"From Durazzo we accompanied the Serbians to Avlona and Corfu and thence to Athens. We have sent a cablegram to the United States asking for instructions."

NON-RESIDENT NOTICE.

To Anthony Haisler:
In the cause of W. C. Collier, trustee, vs Anthony Haisler and Leonard Schwarz. No. 1292.
